Wildwonder

A QuickBooks-powered small business

Founder Rosa Li grew up drinking her Chinese grandma's tonic brews. The wild herbs and botanicals helped soothe her stomach or lift her spirits. Wildwonder reimagines the healing drinks of Rosa's heritage—where herbal wisdom and gut-healing superfoods converge in big fruit flavors. Wildwonder believes better gut health should be as easy, accessible, and delicious as a California produce stand. And 5% of profits go toward empowering women and marginalized communities.

Pluck Tea

A QuickBooks-powered small business

Jennifer Commins founded Pluck Tea with a mission to fix restaurant tea. Today, her team of tea makers in Ontario, Canada, hand-blends a wide range of small-batch infusions for tea drinkers who value quality and sustainability.

Several ingredients are grown and dried on farms close to their facility while others are sourced from producers throughout Canada that otherwise would discard or compost them—like citrus peels, roasted cacao shells, dried apple pieces, and grape skins.

Pluck Teas are packaged into glass stackable jars and delivered to Toronto customers by Drop Distribution, an emission-free delivery service.
